Beach LEGENDS

BEACHES AREA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

HON. ELAINE BROWN & HON. RICHARD BROWN

Elaine and Dick Brown are well known in our community as long-term Neptune Beach residents, local business leaders and dynamic volunteers. As individuals and as a couple, they share a one-of-a-kind history of community leadership. In addition to numerous nonprofit and civic organizations, both have served multiple terms on Jacksonville's City Council. Elaine and Dick have also both been members of Neptune Beach City Commission, and each has been elected Mayor of Neptune Beach.

JAMES ROOSEVELT STOCKTON, JR.

Jimmy Stockton traces his family's Jacksonville roots to the 1860's. Stockton leadership in banking, publishing and the development of Ponte Vedra Beach and Club is legend. Jimmy has enjoyed a successful 50 year career in real estate, but he sees the world as much more than a land development opportunity. As a modern day adventurer, he has enjoyed a life of African safaris, hiking, horseback riding, sailing, hunting, fishing, camping and exploring the world with family and friends.

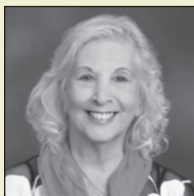

SAM VEAL

Sam Veal was born and raised in our beach community and as an adult, his work has brought a wealth of cultural richness to our lives. Sam searches out and nurtures local musical talent — booking new artists, old favorites and nationally known stars for local venues. He founded the annual Sea Walk Music Fest, the Salt Life Music Fest, the Great Atlantic Music Fest and he's put Jacksonville Beach on the musical map with Springing the Blues.

PAST BEACH LEGENDS

2017 HONOREES

Polly Boeneke

Polly B has taught thousands of Beaches children, teens and adults, the art of dance. Her students have won awards, performed at international venues, pursued professional careers and most of all, developed poise, character, and determination to be the best.

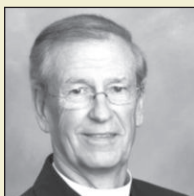

Nancy and Tom Broner

Dr. Tom Broner provided podiatry care in his private practice since 1977, and was a leader in the medical community. Nancy served two terms on the Duval County School Board and currently leads OneJax. Together, they are volunteers, community leaders and trusted friends to many.

Lillie Sullivan

As President of the Rhoda Martin Cultural Heritage Center, Lillie has been working for sixteen years to preserve a four room brick building in Jacksonville Beach—the home of a school founded in 1928 for African American children.

Rev. Jim Cooper

As the former rector of Christ Episcopal Church, his leadership engaged his congregation in international service, local charitable initiatives and the growth of their church ministry. His congregation laid the foundation for Vicar's Landing and other service organizations in the Beaches community.

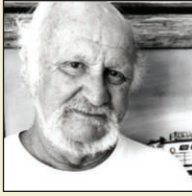

2016 HONOREES

Rev. Don and Barbara Lynn

As a local senior chaplain and preschool director, this couple has been growing, healing and strengthening the lives of Beach children and adults for two decades.

PAST BEACH LEGENDS

Captain George Strate

As the notorious captain of the Miss Mayport, and later the Mayport Princess, this fisherman has over 40 years of experience as a deep sea fishing guide and advocate for the sport, helping adults and children experience the thrill of the sea.

Coach John "Wimpy" Sutton

As a beloved science teacher, Jacksonville Beach Volunteer Life Guard Corp member, exercise coach, swimming instructor and coach, fishing captain, member of the Duval County School Board and family man, he inspired and changed the lives of thousands.

Mrs. Leslie Weed

As an Autism advocate and co-founder of Helping Every Autistic Life (HEAL), she has helped change the lives for individuals living with Autism Spectrum Disorders and their families across Northeast Florida and throughout the world.

Tom Wood

As the publisher of The Beaches Leader and The Ponte Vedra Leader, his leadership has fostered a community voice and helped to build our sense of place at the Beach through these local weekly newspapers.

2015 HONOREES

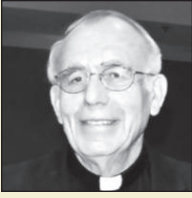

Eleanor Johnson Ashby

As a philanthropist, she will be remembered for her work with Leadership Jacksonville, the Jacksonville Symphony Orchestra and numerous non-profit organizations.

Shari Duval

As the creator of K9s for Warriors, she has touched the lives of our nation's military men and women suffering from Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder by pairing them with rescue dogs trained as service dogs.

Father William Kelly

As a minister to the Beaches since 1977, his good works at St. Paul's Catholic Church, Mission House, Beaches Habitat for Humanity and co-founding Beaches Emergency Assistance Ministry are legendary.

Dr. Randy Wainwright and his wife Ava

As our first Legends' couple, they are medical professionals known for heart-felt concern and caring for patients and unfortunate souls in the community and beyond.

2014 HONOREES

Sterling Joyce

As a well-known maitre d' of the historic Casa Marina Hotel and Restaurant, he is an icon of Beaches hospitality, known for his charitable acts.

Dr. William Lynch

As a beloved family practice physician, Dr. Lynch served Beaches residents for years and was instrumental in the Baptist Medical Center's expansion to the Beaches.

Jay McGarvey

As a local developer and chair of Beaches Habitat for Humanity, McGarvey is dedicated to preserving natural resources and eliminating substandard housing at the Beaches.

Gene Nordan

As a popular Beaches entertainer, Nordan entertains at charity affairs and brightens the lives of Beaches residents with a repertoire of oldies and current favorites.
